Would Give Widdifield Park Back To Donors

HECTIC SESSION AS OLD QUESTION REVIEWED

Monday night's session of council was heralded to be a quiet evening, but it proved otherwise. Ald. Joe Spillette started the ball rolling at a lively pace when he opened a discussion on Widdifield Park—the same piece of ground that has given the weekly press columns of hot material for the past few years.

Ald. Spillette—"I understand the piece of land donated to the town by the late W. C. Widdifield, was to be used for a children's playground or else there would be serious complications. The estate is very much opposed to it being turned into a parking lot. It would seem that we haven't lived up to the agreement. It could, with very little expense, be made into a nice park."

Mayor Boyd—"They can have it back."

Ald. Spillette—"It would be a shame to turn it back. There is an opportunity to make a nice park."

Mayor Boyd—"Don't get het up about it."

Ald. Spillette—"I'm just expressing my opinion, which I believe I have the right to. You've accepted the land though the deed may not be registered."

Mayor Boyd—"We have the Lions Park, so why have another one?"

Deputy Vale—"Did they object to the fill being put in?"

Ald. Spillette—"They object to it being made into a parking lot."

Ald. Dixon—"It could be made a real park with a bit of fill. We must remember that we have lost the Fair Grounds for some years at least."

Ald. Evans—"The Widdifield's could have sold this property for $600 but they wanted it made into a children's playgrounds."

Deputy Vale—"They have objected to any proposals we ever made."

Ald. Evans—"The only proposals we ever made would have made it into a straight dump. We were looking for some place to relieve the Queen Street dump of dry refuse."

Deputy Vale—"Let them have it back. The deed is not registered."

MARIE DRAPER LYONS AND DONALD CRIBBAR GUEST ARTISTS

The Newmarket branch of the Ontario Federation of Home and Schools Inc., held its regular monthly meeting in the Stuart Scott school Tuesday, Oct. 22, at 8 p.m.

Mrs. J. C. R. Edward presided in the absence of the Rev. Mr. Burton Hill.

Mrs. Marie Draper Lyons, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. S. C. Rutledge, sang a delightful group of English, Irish and Scotch songs, amongst the loveliest being "Drink to me Only with Thine Eyes," "Danny Boy" and "Think On Me."

Donald Cribbar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cribbar of town, favored the capacity audience with two beautiful cornet solos. The one, "Among the Stars," by Solmon, won Donald the gold medal at the Waterloo musical festival this year. The other, "The Lost Chord," by Sullivan, was also brilliantly played.

Donald is a very gifted musician, of whom the town is justly proud.

STATEMENT BY THE MAYOR

If the council by a majority vote try to save a few dollars as a WARTIME ECONOMY by having an election every two years for the duration of the war, you could hardly criticize us for endeavouring to save $150 of the town money.

Most of us feel that the war is costing us plenty, and welcome a saving be it ever so small.

It is not as though we were electing ourselves for two years. Any citizen may run who wants to, and be elected for two years.

On the other hand the citizens have the privilege of getting up a petition of 5% of the voters which amounts to about a hundred names. This petition would ensure a vote which may bring the term back to one year as formerly.

Vern Clark Would Like A Tin of Corn

Aldershot, England, Oct. 3, 1940.

Just a short note to thank you for the papers and to tell you how pleased I am to receive them. It sure seems good to read news of the old town and see familiar faces once again.

Would you please thank whoever is responsible, through your paper, for the parcel which I received on Tuesday, Oct. 2. You see, there was no name on it and I have no other way of expressing my thanks. It sure was a god-send, as things are costly, although obtainable here. We were on a training scheme to-day and as it was raining at noon, the Oxo cubes came in mighty handy. They seem to give a fellow a new lease on life, and give him the strength to carry on. You know, this English weather is not a bit like home at this time of year, kind of dull and depressing.

I was awakened from a sound sleep the other morning about 4 o'clock, by a loud bang and the trembling of the building where we live, but as the bombs must have fallen in the open as there is no evidence of any damage to the camp, and so we can uncross our fingers for a while longer. The Jerries don't seem to have very good aim, or the pilots are young and excitable, but they just can't seem to hit their mark. Then, again, you know, our own air force give them quite a warm welcome, so I don't wonder at them getting jittery. They seem to be concentrating their efforts on hospitals and schools, where there is not much resistance.

Well, as there isn't much news from here to interest you, I guess I will have to close for now, but (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Committed For Trial On Two Charges

CARELESS DRIVING BRINGS $5 FINE

George E. Anthony and Norman Clay, both of Toronto, were committed for trial on charges of breaking and entering Cook's Service Station, and theft of an auto belonging to Gordon Stephenson of Armitage, at Newmarket Police Court on Tuesday.

"On Sunday morning, October 13th, at ten to five, I was lying awake when I heard a noise that sounded like glass breaking, and thought it was an accident," testified William Hamilton, who is employed by Thomas Cook, and lives directly behind the service station. "I looked out the bedroom window, which faces west, and saw a man standing at the end of the service station. A car came along and he immediately stooped down. Another car came along and he stooped down again. I thought it looked rather suspicious, so I phoned the telephone operator in Newmarket and told her I thought there was someone breaking into the station. I then woke Mr. Cook up and got my gun. I stood behind a pump and watched into the front. Two men were in the service station working. The night light was on. I watched them for two or three minutes, and they started towards the south door. One was carrying a box full of cigarettes. There was another man on the outside. This man ran up to the east past the house and I fired a shot to keep the other two men in. Mr. Cook came down. I heard someone working at the rear of the garage and they disappeared out the back. I went up into the barn to see if I could find any evidence and found a car in the driveway to the barn, still warm. The back door of the station had been pried open, and the padlock broken off. The other doors of the station were all locked. There was a broken window in the front of the service station. On Wednesday, October 16th, I went to Police Headquarters in Toronto and was asked to pick out two men from the lineup. I recognized Anthony as the one inside the station and Clay on the outside. The car was a light-colored Ford, 1931 or 1935 model. It was parked beside the barn, three hundred feet to the rear of the station. There were no keys in it. The two men ran towards the car when I fired the shot."

"I arrived at Yonge and Eagle Street at 5:05 a.m. on October 13th and found there had been a break-in," testified Constable Ronald Watt. "A car was sitting in the drive-way with license 4M537, a 1934 Ford coach, with no keys in it. As a result of investigation, I found this car belonged to Gordon Stephenson of Armitage, who lives three-quarters of a mile south on Yonge St. I was given a description of the three men by Hamilton. As a result, the accused George Anthony was stopped by Constables Sloss, Fleury and myself at the corner of Wellington and Yonge Streets in Aurora, at 9 a.m. Sunday morning. As a result of questioning, he was taken into custody. At 10 a.m. Sunday morning, Oct. 13, while patrolling Yonge Street, on the look-out for these men, I saw a man walking south. The description tallied with that I had received from Hamilton. I stopped the car and motioned for him to get in. He ran across the flats at St. Andrew's College. Constable Fleury and I gave chase. Two shots were fired. The accused attempted to jump across a creek and fell into the centre. He was Norman Clay. Constable Fleury and I were in uniform. On the way to the police station I cautioned him and questioned him. He stated he had come from Toronto, but wasn't too definite about the time. He said he had come up on a milk truck, and got off somewhere in the vicinity between Aurora and Newmarket. Another chap whom he knew only as "Big Ears," accompanied him. They proceeded to walk and went into some place on the west side of the road and stole a Ford car; they then proceeded to Cook's Service Station. His job D.S.T. 1138

ASSISTANT TO MOFFAT COCKBURN IS NAMED

The Ontario Department of Agriculture has just announced the appointment of T. R. Hilliard, B.S.A. of Carleton Place as Assistant Agricultural Representative for York County to assist W. M. Cockburn.

Mr. Hilliard who graduated last spring from the Ontario Agricultural College, has had considerable executive experience, having been president of last year's College Royal, which is now one of the biggest student organizations there. Mr. Hilliard's popularity with his own classmates is indicated by the fact he was elected Alumni President of his class.

For some five or six years, in spite of ever increasing duties, the representative has had to carry on without assistance, except occasional part time help. During the past summer, Mr. Cockburn has been fortunate in getting some help from R. T. Jefferson, who has a farm at Malton and has been able to get away for a few days a week.

'Savors Of Berlin' Ex-Reeve Says Of Council Decision

PLAN ADOPTING TWO-YEAR TERMS UNLESS SPECIAL PETITION RECEIVED

Newmarket council's refusal to submit the two-year term issue to the electors this year, "savors too much of Berlin," says Dr. L. W. Dales charged to-day.

Council decided Monday night to adopt the two-year plan for future councils unless a petition demanding a vote by the people, and signed by at least five per cent. of the electorate, is received by next Monday night.

Dr. Dales described the council as "planning to steal a principle fought for and won by the people in 1841," giving them control of municipal affairs and annual elections.

A council "not interested in warming their political seats" would grant a plebiscite "and not pass the blame over to individuals, who are not in a position to leave their business and present a signed petition to stall this political move," said the Ex-Reeve, now a member of the High School board.

In criticizing council, Dr. Dales made his first public statement on municipal affairs in two years. He saw council's action as "bad fruit" borne by the lack of public interest in municipal elections. Desire for retention of office had become "too great a temptation" for the majority of the councillors, he asserted.

The former Reeve was joined in his protest by Coun. D. O. Mungovan, whose motion to submit the question to a vote in December was defeated in council, and J. O. Little, former Deputy-Reeve here and Ex-Warden of York County.

"The ballot is the cheapest form of insurance a democracy possesses," Coun. Mungovan declared. He charged his colleagues with "springing the situation on the electors without warning."

Not one elector in 50 was aware that a petition was required by next Monday to force a vote, he claimed. "Even the councillors didn't know it until Monday night," he said.

He ridiculed the stand of the majority by council that a vote on the issue would cost $150. "The (Continued on Page 4, Col. 2)

MRS. AITKEN GIVES SIDELIGHTS ON C.N.E.

The War Work Committee of the Women's Institute held a most successful fall fair, lecture and afternoon tea on Thursday, October 17, and in the evening a large euchre party, climaxed by a short hilarious marionette show, made possible through the kind generosity of Mr. Victor Higginson.

During the afternoon, from 2 till 3.15 p.m., the time allotted, the many booths did a very busy trade.

Sharp at 3.15 the fair was officially opened by Mrs. Howard S. Cane, formerly of Newmarket and now of Toronto. Mrs. Cane was introduced to the capacity audience by the president of the Newmarket branch of the Women's Institute, Mrs. T. Watson.

Mrs. Cane spoke in her usual pleasing manner, referred feelingly to the happy times she had experienced while a member of the Newmarket Institute. She stated that the women were doing a particularly fine piece of work, but that now there are larger fields of service to be entered upon.

135 YEAR OLD PRAYER

The other midnight we were turning the dial when we heard a voice praying, speaking words that seemed particularly appropriate at this time and we listened—then we were surprised to hear that the prayer for the British fleet and for all Europe had been written by a great English leader one hundred and thirty-five years ago.

These are the words he said:

May the great God whom I worship grant to my country, and for the benefit of Europe in general, a great and glorious victory; and may no misconduct in anyone tarnish it; and may humanity after victory be the predominant feature in the British fleet! For myself individually, I commit my life to Him that made me; and may his blessing alight on my endeavours for serving my country faithfully. To Him I resign myself and the just cause which is entrusted to me to defend. Amen, Amen, Amen.

This simple prayer for Admiral Lord Nelson was written by him in his diary on the eve of the battle of Trafalgar, October 21st, 1805, and because of its fitting thought for these dark days CKOC closes its day each midnight with Nelson's prayer.

ALONG THE BURMA ROAD

The Burma Road runs round the world. In opening it to permit aid to reach China the British open new roads for aid to themselves and all peoples standing against aggression or only hoping for deliverance from tyranny. The support of national independence which is represented in the opening of the Burma Road is today one with support of individual freedom, editorially comments The Christian Science Monitor.

Moreover, it is self-support. Americans, thousands of miles from Burma or from Europe, yet can sense that their own rights and interests are well served by Britain's action. They are aware that their Government opposed the closing of the Burma Road three months ago. They are aware that the opening of this chief supply channel to China by the British now must imply a closer understanding between Britain and the United States.

This is not surprising. When Britain closed the Road it was on condition that Japan should compose its "differences" with China and aid stability in the Far East and therefore in the world. Japan's contribution to this hope meanwhile has been further aggression in Asia and outright alliance with European aggressors who threaten not only the order of Europe but that of the Western Hemisphere. Even Americans who had little interest in the Far East today see Japanese aggression there as part of that larger program of violence which knows no limit by land or sea.

Britain has opened the Burma Road, but Americans have a responsibility in helping to keep it open. It is a responsibility for their own interests and for the interests of peoples all along that Burma Road where freedom and the right of the weak to exist beside the strong is still cherished.

TIME FOR A SHOWDOWN

A motion by Alderman Mungovan, to submit to the electors the question of whether the council elected in December would hold office for one or two years, was rejected by the town fathers in a recorded vote, 6-3, Monday evening.

In the discussion, Deputy-Reeve Vale was quite frank in admitting that councils should be elected for two year terms or longer, while Reeve Lundy was out to save the corporation the expense which would incur (about $150 paid to the printers, poll clerks, returning officers, etc.) if the present council was returned by acclamation.

The idea of a two-year term for councils announced by Premier Hepburn last year, did not go over with the electors who, while quite willing to place their parliamentary representatives in office for five years, like to feel that each three hundred and sixty-five days they have the opportunity to approve or disapprove of their fellow townsmen, and if they feel like it, to seek office themselves. Last year fifteen municipalities were asked to express their wishes in the matter in a plebiscite, and everyone voted to retain the one-year term.

While we appreciate the service the present council has given, and the long and faithful hours of hard work they have put in for the town, we do contend that they should have of their own volition said to the electors, "We ask you by your ballot to say whether you want a two-year council or not. We do not want the citizens to have to go out with a petition and make us have the question settled."

It makes us laugh when we hear some of these gentlemen say that they do not care whether they sit in council or not.

A petition, we understand, is being circulated to ask for a showdown on the question. It must be signed by five per cent of those entitled to vote, which means a little over one hundred signatures, and must be submitted by Monday at the latest.

Let us show the council that we disapprove of their attitude by submitting a bulky petition with weighty signatures.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Every last cent from the concert-to-morrow evening will be divided between the Red Cross and the Soldiers' Comforts. So if you spend fifty cents, each organization will receive a quarter—a good way to spend a quarter.

Mail your Christmas parcels to the boys overseas now.

Building up an army is expensive. Maintaining it is expensive. It is at best a necessary burden. But there is one thing worse than maintaining a great army of your own. It is maintaining somebody else's army.

France knows. It is estimated that France is now paying $2,000,000 a day to maintain the German army that occupies three-fifths of their country. That will continue as long as the war lasts. If Germany wins, it will continue as long afterward as Germany pleases.

If anybody is worried about the cost of building Canadian defence, let them remember that there is one thing worse—supporting somebody else's army.—Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

Says the Peterboro Examiner, "The big problem is to take the germ out of Germany, the hit out of Hitler, and the muss out of Mussolini." Trouble is with the latter two problems, you wouldn't have much left.

There is no need to wait on the people to present petitions for a vote on the question as to whether the municipal councils to be elected in January shall serve one year or two. The people undoubtedly have the right to choose, and the councils should give them that right without the necessity of petitions being circulated. Provision should be made in every municipality for a vote on the issue.—Midland Free Press.

heart, is connected with the sailors in the navy, and with the men who guard the Atlantic sea coast.

The average Canadian does not know that guards are stationed all along the Atlantic and Pacific sea coast, watching every bay and harbour, constantly on the look out for enemy submarines and for that indispensable mother ship that feeds the fuel oil to the submarines, enabling them to carry on their deadly work of preying on the ships at sea.

The life of a coastal guard is lonely beyond compare. His comforts are very few. He is doing a great job, and in the doing of it is subjected to many hardships, as well as to the cruel biting elements of our Canadian winter at the sea coast.

These Atlantic guards are mainly from Quebec, and from the Maritimes. They are poor fisher folk and are badly in need of warm woollen knit goods and leather sleeveless jackets, to be worn under their great coats to turn the raw winds from human bodies.

In Toronto the I.O.D.E. have and are collecting old leather purses, gloves, leather chair seats, anything that can be pieced together and made into sleeveless jackets. These windbreakers, when finished, sometimes resemble crazy quilt patterns, but they are warm. It is amazing the fine wearing apparel that can be made from waste leathers.

Then there is the "Ditty Bag." Do you readers know just what a ditty bag is, and what it is used for?

It is a plain navy blue denim bag, measuring when finished 16½ inches long by 11½ inches wide. A label is fastened to the front of the bag for the name of the sailor to whom it is given. He uses the bag to hold all his odds and ends, and hangs it at the foot of his hammock.

The ditty bag is the only private nook a sailor has in which to keep his personal belongings. Elsewhere in the paper will be found further particulars about Ditty Bags.

Following Mrs. Cane's address the Institute was honored by a spectacular patriotic tableau put on by the N.C.O.'s from the instructional staff of the military camp, assisted by Mrs. Ross Evans, D.S.O., and Mrs. Marie Draper Lyons.

The party marched to the platform in slow time, took up their position in arrow-head formation. The trumpeter sounded the Last Post and Reveille, while the party stood at general salute. Mrs. Lyons sang "There'll Always Be An England." Soldiers came smartly to the on guard position, then formed an arch of bayonets at the high port as the nurse slowly marched through to conclude the tableau, which was such a delight to all who saw and heard.

The guard was comprised of nursing sister Mrs. Ross Evans, D.S.O.; Sergt. Andrews, in charge of guard; Sergt. Moss, trumpeter; Corp. Gardiner, military medal; Corp. Gillespie, Lance-Corp. Sullivan, Lance-Corp. Tomson; Lance-Corp. Eustace.

After the guard had passed out of the building, Mrs. Marie Draper Lyons sang a group of delightful patriotic numbers. Lunch was then served during which time the Glee Club of 40 voices, under Marie Lyons' able direction, entertained with a group of English, Irish and Scotch songs. Then came several patriotic songs such as "Ye Stalwart Sons of Canada" and "Rule Britannia."

Donald Cribbar delighted one and all with his gifted coronet solos. His first number was "Among the Stars" by Goldman, for which playing he won the gold medal at the Waterloo Musical Festival. His second number was the "Lost Chord" by Sullivan.

Mrs. Aitken then came to the platform and regaled her large audience with many pleasant and interesting stories as they came to light behind the scenes at the Canadian National Exhibition.

To those whose responsibility it is to prepare and present the exhibition year after year, the closing of the 1940 Fair just meant the commencement of the work for the 1941 exhibition. As a consequence contacts are world wide and continuous.

Princess Alice, granddaughter of Queen Victoria, and wife of Canada's Governor-General, the Earl of Athlone, was a constant visitor at the exhibition. She was particularly interested in handicraft as exhibited in the Woman's Building. Here Mrs. Aitken had the pleasure of meeting her on various occasions.

The princess bought many fine pieces including embroideries, rugs and quilts. These she shipped home to England as gifts to the Royal family.

Princess Alice related one rather amusing experience she had had in the electrical building just outside the big door leading into Mrs. Aitken's Cooking School.

The Princess saw a very large crowd gathered outside the door, so being gifted, as other women with a fair share of curiosity, she joined the throng and did her best by standing on tip-toe and stretching her neck to see over the heads of the people. Just at the crucial moment a big six-foot policeman came to her side and said, "None of that rough stuff, lady, quit your pushing. I'm here to keep order outside this door."

The Princess is anxious to see the King and Queen, to swap amusing stories with them.

The Beautician who dresses Mrs. Aitken's hair, and pins her hat at the right angle prior to her large public meeting, was very interested in seeing Princess Alice, because he noticed that she wore that new mauve rinse on her lovely white hair, which goes to prove that what a person is interested in seeing in another, they can see.

Following a luncheon, where Mrs. Aitken was guest speaker, and on the air, a timid letter was received by her from a nine-year-old child of the Muskoka district. The request was for a doll and carriage for Xmas.

Next time on the air, Mrs. Aitken made the child's request known and received 12 dolls and 9 carriages.

Later when the "thank you" letter arrived, there was a request for a piano from the little girl, so at another luncheon Mrs. Aitken mentioned jokingly about the doll, and now the piano. A gentleman appeared at her office the next day and offered a piano for the child. It was sent, and another letter arrived from the child stating that the women around about had formed a Sunday school and that several of the children had learned to play hymns on the piano with one finger. If wool and materials could be sent to them, the women would form a Red Cross Society and knit and sew.

Wool and materials were sent. From this child's letter wanting a dollie, has sprung up a flourishing Sunday school, and a red cross unit, from which has already been received around 200 pairs of beautifully knit socks, besides sweaters, scarfs and mittens and clothing for the refugees.

God Save the King was then played and sung feelingly, and the meeting was adjourned.

FIND SHOOTING WAS ACCIDENT

An inquest jury Friday night found that the death of Joseph S. Kekete while hunting in Holland Marsh Sept. 28 was "purely accidental," but criticized Elek Szotko for "carrying his gun exceedingly carelessly, especially considering the rough footing." It was the discharge from Szotko's gun that fatally wounded his companion. The inquest was held in the parish hall at Kettleby, and was presided over by Coroner Dr. L. W. Dales of Newmarket.

"We would like to add that the hunting party was poorly organized," the jury said in its rider. Szotko told the inquiry he was startled by a crane which rose suddenly in Holland Marsh, causing him to discharge his gun, which he was carrying cocked over his shoulder. The discharge struck his companion at point-blank range.

Michael Demeter, third member of the party, corroborated Szotko's evidence. Mrs. Fekete, the widow, testified briefly. She said she was sure the shooting was entirely accidental and knew of no reason to believe it was otherwise than unintentional.

Fekete was a Toronto resident and lived at 607 Queen Street W. Szotko gave his address as 6 Glasgow Street, Toronto.

YORK COUNTY FEDERATION OF AGRICULTURE MEET IN NEWMARKET

With the summer work now pretty well completed, the directors of the York County Federation of Agriculture held a meeting in Newmarket on Monday evening, October 21st, when plans were discussed for a series of meetings throughout the county to discuss the work of the Federation. It is planned to secure a number of speakers from the Provincial Federation of Agriculture, and following this series of meetings, there will be a general meeting for the whole county at some central point.

The directors report that most of the organizations they have contacted and which they themselves represent, are keenly supporting the organization and the affiliation fees are being forwarded by these organizations. The meeting was presided over by president James Rennie of Stouffville and secretary E. F. Ramsay of Sharon.

JUNIOR FARMERS DONATE $2,050

Junior Farmers of Ontario, through Hon. P. M. Dewan, Minister of Agriculture, yesterday presented a cheque for $2,050 to Dr. Fred W. Routley, national commissioner of the Canadian Red Cross Society. The money will be used to buy an ambulance for Great Britain and for relief work in London.

The cheque was first presented to Mr. Dewan by Earl Empringham, president of the York County Junior Farmers, in the presence of some dozen Junior Farmers and representatives of the Junior Women's Institutes.

Dr. Routley said the ambulance would carry a Junior Farmer plate on each side, and that it raised the total number of ambulances donated by Canadians to 221.

BADMINTON CLUB GRANTED USE OF TOWN HALL

A request from Ben Wilson, president of the Newmarket Badminton Club, asking for the use of the Town Hall on evenings it wasn't used for any other purpose, was favorably received by council Monday night.

The Club pay ten dollars a month and provide their own fuel.

COUNCIL REFUSE REQUEST

A request by the Strand Theatre to extend their ticket office ten inches into the Main Street, was refused by council Monday evening. The Mayor contended that it would start a precedent.

Deputy-Reeve Vale's motion that the request be not granted was approved by council.

PLENTY OF WATER

Ald. Evans, chairman of the Water and Light Committee, reported to council Monday night that the Colter Street well had been cleaned out and was giving twice the flow, while the new well developed at the water-works was producing 50 gallons a minute.

INSURANCE TO BE PLACED ON LUMBER

An inquiry from Ald. Bowser, relative to more insurance being placed on the red barn at the Fair Grounds, as some $2,000 worth of lumber and fences is being stored there, brought action from the council Monday night.

Ald. Evans suggested that it might be cheaper to sell the lumber, but for the time being the corporation will retain it.

Clerk—"We have been out about a thousand dollars in taxes having it."

Ald. Evans—"That is a very poor argument. It's the town's fault the place hasn't been used."

Mayor Boyd—"They'd have to pay the back taxes if we returned the property."

Ald. Spillette—"Certainly not."

Ald. Dixon—"We should consider the question very closely before we turned it back."

Deputy Vale—"I would be in favour of turning it back."

Ald. Mungovan—"Let us do something about it right away. Turn the Horticultural Society loose and see what they could make out of it."

Clerk Mathews—"Why not get a representative of the Ontario Horticultural Society up here and see how much it would cost to fix it up?"

Mayor Boyd—"You would have to employ a caretaker."

Reeve Lundy—"Why not ask Ald. Bowser there. He had a great deal to do with the Lions Park."

Ald. Bowser—"When you are talking on the park subject, I think the Lions will be asking you to take theirs over. There's a $7,000 layout in itself."

Deputy Vale—"I thought we had a solemn assurance that we would never be asked to take that park over?"

Reeve Lundy—"You haven't been asked yet."

Ald. Bowser—"Why not appoint a committee to interview the Widdifield people?"

Ald. Dixon—"Yes, the property committee."

Ald. Mungovan—"The property committee would be under a handicap not knowing the legal aspects, or how much we could spend. Let the Mayor appoint a committee."

The Mayor, Ald. Higginson and Ald. Spillette will interview the donors and report back to council.

Ald. Higginson, chairman of the property committee which has some money to spend without exceeding the budget, asked the opinion of council on expending some $125 to $175 on chairs for the town hall. Ald. Higginson opined that some one would be injured on the old benches if they were not replaced.

Ald. Dixon—"I am very much in favour of new chairs."

Clerk Mathews—"I would like you to look over the dungeon known as the clerk's office. There is no room for anything. Records are piled sky high and the heating is awful. Something will have to be done."

Ald. Higginson—"It would cost $1200."

Ald. Dixon—"The floor in the market building should be fixed. Especially around the doors. One of these days someone will find himself in the basement."

Clerk Mathews—"Are you going to be able to do anything about the office. Some day you will have a fire that $10,000 wouldn't replace."

Ald. Dixon—"Yes, I admit that all our records are in a firetrap."

Ald. Bowser—"The fences have all been taken down from around the fair grounds, and Crowder suggests that we build two rooms with this lumber, out even with the police department, and out at the north end to store the chairs and benches, so they won't have to be knocked about."

Ald. Dixon—"I don't think that would look very nice."

Mayor Boyd—"I'm in favour of the committee buying some new chairs."

Council agreed. So another group of the rungless benches will, thank goodness, go in the discard.

Registrars Busy on New Lists—Few of 24 To Be Included in Call

Divisional registrars across Canada are preparing their selection lists of young men of 21, 22 and 23 years who are single or widowers without children, for the secondary compulsory militia training period scheduled to start Nov. 22. The Department of National War Services said yesterday.

A spokesman said the second call may take in a few single men of 24 in some areas to bring quotas up to strength, but for the most part it will be concentrated on cleaning up those age classes already called.

Young men of 21, 22 and 23 now are in centres for the first training period. Most of them are 21.

When the registrars have completed their second selection lists they will send out individual notices by mail, advising selected men that they must take a medical examination preparatory to reporting at the nearest training centre.

HYDRAULIC METALS CO. ASK TOWN COLLECT SCRAP IRON

A letter was received by council on Monday night from the Hydraulic Metals Company asking that the town put on a drive for scrap iron, similar to the one recently conducted by the City of Toronto. This company, which is the largest of its kind in Canada and is working night and day shifts, seven days a week, offered to buy the scrap and would send their trucks after it.

"Turn the matter over to the Veterans and Red Cross," suggested Ald. Evans.

"The metal should be collected," advised the Mayor, asking the clerk to get full particulars.

was look-out man, and he stood at the south corner of the building. The other two chaps broke in. He heard crashing of glass. A short time later he spotted a man by the gas pumps, so ran to the front to notify the chaps inside to scram. The man started towards him so he ran to the east of the station. After Clay gave this statement, he refused to sign it. I found out since that he cannot read nor write very well.

"The reason I said I busted in was because I was scared at the time," said Clay.

Gordon Stephenson stated that he left his car in the yard about 12.15 or 12.30 Sunday morning. The keys were in his trouser pocket in the house and to the best of his knowledge the car doors were locked.

Fred VanNest of Toronto, was fined $5 and costs for careless driving. Constable Ferguson testified that accused was cutting in and out of traffic on a Sunday night on Highway No. 11.

Charged by Constable Ferguson with speeding, William Marshall of Toronto, was fined $10 and costs; John Bermarja, Sudbury, $10 and costs; Richard L. Deval, Toronto, $10 and costs. For attempting to pass, Patrick D. Cooney of Copper Cliff, was fined $5 and costs. Donald Bates of Sudbury paid $1 and costs for having bad lights.

Clifford E. Sweet of East Gwillimbury, charged by Constable Casement with having bad brakes, was fined $10 and costs.

Albert Sturrock of Bradford, charged by Constable Fleury with having no operator's license, was assessed $10 and costs.

Marten Massink of Kettleby, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of having no license plates, and $5 and costs for permitting an unlicensed operator.

Constable Fleury testified that he noticed this truck proceeding north in the Township of King, with no license plates. Accused said he used it only for agricultural purposes.

"This vehicle is used exclusively for agricultural purposes," said Massink. "My boy went to the neighbours for a load of hay. The body is taken off the car and a box placed on the chassis."

Kenneth Lunney of Belhaven, charged by Fred Arnold with failing to pay wages, paid the amount of the wages, $13.65, and the court costs of $1.50.

GERMANS POOR MARKSMEN, SAYS CHUCK HARRISON

I sure want you to thank the persons for the parcel, and for any letters or other things, in advance.

Hoping to see you all soon,
Pte. C. K. Harrison,
B-3726, B. Coy., R.H.L.I.,
Corunna Barracks, Aldershot,
England.

Oct. 3, 1940.

Dear Ang:

Just a line to let you know I received the Newmarket Veterans' parcel for Sept. O.K. The articles in it were all very nice and they arrived in good condition. The tinned goods and the butter is really a treat. If I might suggest, I think possibly the fellows would all appreciate a tin of just plain, ordinary Golden Bantam corn. I have never tasted or even seen corn in this country as yet, and I don't suppose any of the others have either. It makes me hungry every time I see it advertised in any of the Canadian or American magazines we have around here.

I have not seen anyone at all from Newmarket lately, and I have no idea where they are now. I am with a Company from our Regiment, who are attached to the 1st Armoured Division. It is an all mobile Division and there are two other Canadian Regiments, the Royal Montreal and the Saskatoon Light Infantry, which are both machine gun units now. All the other units however, are British, and it is our job to keep all their equipment, trucks, tanks, artillery guns and motorcycles, etc., in repair. We are really kept busy, too. We have motor mechanics, tool and die makers, blacksmiths, copper-smiths and salvage men. Myself, I am the water man and I have not so very much to do right now as we are in houses now and they have water in them. I give them a hand, though, doing almost anything and I really give them a lot of moral support.

I wish this war would soon get over, though, and I was back home again. I think our supplies of more modern equipment has now been built up to a level with the German equipment and will no doubt pass it in the near future. In fact, I think (and I have this on pretty good authority) that the only reason we have not made an offensive drive.

That one-man wave of destruction, Ken Newton, isn't here yet. I sure hope he gets here soon and launches a gigantic attack on them. They sure do deserve it, too, the way they have been dropping bombs on the civilian population of London is atrocious.

Well, Ang, I guess I will close now, and I would like very much to thank you and the Veterans for all you have done for us chaps, and I know we all appreciate it a great deal. I remain, as ever,

Private Vern S. Clark.

Letter received by Mrs. Edward Peat from her mother in England.

Sept. 11, 1940.

Dear Daughters, Sister and All:

We are pleased to let you know we received your parcel today, and thank you all very much, as the sugar and tea have come in very useful. We were just down to our last bit. As for the powder and stockings, I am very pleased and thank you so much. Also mother likes the soap. She is keeping that for herself.

How have you all been keeping in this great, fearful time? We are doing our best to keep smiling, as we have got to do to help to win this war, which we shall do. What do you think of the air raids? I guess you are very quiet over there. Don't you think it is awful what that rotter is doing? I think he will do all he can now, as he knows he is getting beaten.

We had a few experiences when he bombed here. The first was at Whitehall Rd. You know where that is. Then he came a bit nearer, as near as the Woodpecker and the Gaunty Hill Flats. He did make a mess, in fact we all thought we were done for, as it threw us from one side of the house to the other. Anyway we are still alive to see the end of him, I hope.

By the way, we have just received a letter from our Charlie, and he has told us he wrote to you, so I hope you get it O.K. He has been home for four days' leave a fortnight ago, and my he looks fine.

Will you let Joe and Eleanor know we received their photos, and the one of Manaly. They are lovely, and we thank them very much. I have not much time to write lately, as we keep getting the air raids and C.I. Before I forget to tell you, by the way, we are removing, so I will let you have the new address. It is on the same street, but a smaller house, just up and down. The number will be 28 instead of 32. Anyway I will drop you a letter when we get moved, so you will know for sure.

Well, I think I will have to come to a close, as time is getting on, so here's wishing you a good-night and God bless you all.

Love from your loving mother and sister Amy.

Give our love and kisses to Mary and Walt. Also Eleanor and Joe and baby Madeline and Audrey.

Veterans and Citizens of Newmarket:

Once again I must thank you all for the splendid parcel I have just received. It was in perfect shape and every thing that is sent is very useful. We are in billets now and I am in a very nice place. There are two of us in one billet and the people treat us like lords, nothing is too good for us. We are sure seeing lots of air-raids now, and in fact a little while ago our house was hit with a piece of a land mine. The mine did a lot of damage, but nobody was hurt very bad. We often get bombs dropped around here, but I am glad to say all our regiment is still intact. I could write lots of what happens around here but we are told not to. One thing I can say, things are getting rather hot. I am getting my second leave next month. I don't think I will go to London as it has been bombed pretty badly. I am trying to find out how the band made out at the Ex. this year. I sincerely hope they did well. I hope next year I will be with them as this war cannot last much longer, as the conditions in Germany are getting terrible. I think after this war is over one may walk around Germany in half a day. We are sure of winning, and when the time comes for us to do our bit I know we will prove ourselves worthy to be called soldiers, as the R.C.A.F. has done. The weather is turning rather cold now. I guess I can stand it. We have lots of good, warm clothes, thanks to the ladies of Newmarket, the Canadian Red Cross Society, Y.M.C.A., and the Salvation Army. Everybody is good to us and I am sure all the soldiers who are on active service appreciate it.

I would like you to print this little bit of poetry I am enclosing, so for now I wish you all the best of luck, and again, thank

ANOTHER GUY
A soldier wants for many things
When far away he sails;
But one thing that he wishes for,
Is just a little mail.

He does not look for money,
Or things of worldly might;
But just a line to let him know
That things are going right.

When the mail call is sounded
Excitement rises high;
Here's one for you, another, too,
But none for this poor guy.

SAVE OUR COUPONS THEY'RE JUST LIKE CASH

When the day will come when the Royals will be turned loose and boy, God help the Germans then! We have the honor of saying that we were the first Canadians in foreign land and what a country and what a time.

I am going into town to-morrow night and I hope to have a better time than I did the last

Sincerely yours,
Cyril Bennison.

September 19, 1940,
Iceland.

Darling mother and family,—

The mail just came in, and I received two letters from you. The dates were Aug. 16, 26. I sure do appreciate your letters. I am fine and healthy and glad to hear that all at home are fine.

I received a letter from Edna, but none from Mary. I got 13 letters today, and there is nothing like mail.

It's getting quite chilly here at night, but we are in our winter huts, and they are nice and warm. We have a nice stove and it makes a fellow feel a lot better when he comes in out of the cold into a warm place.

I like my police job fine, and I just came off duty, and the sergeant of the police handed me two parcels and thirteen letters. The boys' raz me, but I take it all as a joke.

I got Ang's parcel and I wrote him a letter thanking him for thinking of me. May sent me the paper and I saw some pictures of some of the Canadians arriving back to Canada. We were sent here because we were the smartest regiment in Canada and this job had to be done, so that's the reason why we are here.

We are all anxious, Mother,

News and Views of People and Things by Isabel Inglis Colville

Has Herr Winter, following the lead of, or assuming the role of der Fruher, ridden rough-shod over our land, withering the flowers with his frosty breath, whipping the leaves from the shivering trees, and making each home into a fortress to hold against his riders of snow and sleet?

At any rate, the flowers have gone, and we've seen the snow, so he has sent his scouts ahead.

The writer of this column wishes to add her voice to the congratulations due the Women's Institute of Newmarket, on the success of their fair of last Friday. Our Pleasantville girls displayed their work, which is well worth seeing.

The Bogartown Community Club supper is on Friday evening at the school house. This is the opening of the year's activities and members are expected to be on hand. The play given by the Goodwood players will give delightful entertainment, and anyone who has partaken of one of the suppers can vouch for its excellence.

Mr. Stickwood, Mr. L. Harper, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ridley were among those who attended the International Plowing Match, held this year at St. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Starr visited Beaverton and Mariposa on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Moore and Robert of Toronto spent Saturday with Mrs. G. McClure and Mrs. Tucker.

Things

"What We Hear"

There was a time, not long ago, when listening to the radio, that mostly things of every day made up the commentator's "say." The war in China and in Spain, made headlines now and then, again, we vowed it was a burning shame, still—"democracy would win the game, and then we'd drive the thought away—the thought of suffering every day; of Chinese children starved and slain, that Tokio might make a gain.

Of "old Madrid" and storied Spain, in mourning for her countless slain. But we were safe and we were free—in Britain such things could not be. And, so, we'd strike a lighter note, how would we or would we not, vote. Would our hats shade this eye or that; would they be high or short and fat; would prices rise or stay quite steady?

Would we hear McDonald and Nelson Eddy? What would we have for dinner that day? We wish a new animal'd come our way. But now this peaceful time has gone, we've other things to think upon. We've learned the real geography of lands we never hope to see. We know what waters have been mined, we hear how ships can "go it blind.

And we have seen an Exodus of children in this hour of stress, of children, brave 'neath bomb and shell, brought to this land we love so well. We see the nations still left free, arming fast, that they may be, a place where democratic right may live and learn and pray and fight, unhampered by Herr Hitler's hordes who rule with bombs and guns and swords. There's one thing now we listen for—and that's the news about the war. Past years we never gave a thought to what Greece did or she did not; the Turks—we gave a thought to them—when they loose women from the harem.

While Jugo-Slavia and Bulgaria were just the Balkans, anyway, while as for colorful Roumania, it seemed to have special mania for changing kings and lovely queens, and slaying violent rows and scenes. "Those Balkans" we were wont to say, would rather fight than eat or play. But now! A Balkan smile or frown is apt to get us up or down.

At Russia we were wont to sneer, but now she looms up far too near. We struggle with unholo names, that our pronunciation shames, we watch Mahatma Gandhi pose while thinking thoughts that no one knows, and every time its London calling, we wonder if still bombs are falling, and think of all the homes that lie in ruins 'neath the flaming sky. If there is one thing we have learned, it is that we are more concerned about all lands that in the past, were sort of all together massed as something quite outside our sphere, until the war has drawn them near.

So now, when we sit down to rest, and someone says, "here's Bucharest," one wants about its plans to know, just as if it were Toronto. We've learned quick sympathy to feel, for those beneath the Nazi heel. We've learned no nation to itself can live and garner national health, that every land must give and take, if it a nation great would make. And every broadcast that we hear serves but to bring these lands more near, and makes us hope that some day, we shall see them free, as we are free.

Mr. Davis, sang at the afternoon service. Dr. Agnew is a lecturer in Ching-tu University. He also directs a choir from the university which broadcast a program from China to America recently. Dr. Agnew has every hope of China's ultimate victory over the Japanese war machinery. Unconquerable spirit, confidence in Christian leadership and a desire of peaceful pursuits and respect from and for other nations, the Chinese people have a vision of hope. Twenty-Two York Plowmen Compete At Big Match

MANY AWARDS BROUGHT HOME BY MOFF. COCKBURN'S BOYS

York County was well represented at the International Plowing Match held last week at St. Thomas, with twenty-two plowmen from the county competing and an equal number of helpers and coaches. These contestants each plowed on two or three different days and were about equally divided between walking plows and tractors. The boys did well and brought home at least their share of the prizes. Those plowing were Herb Jarvis, Milliken; Bert Irwin, Agincourt; Norman Tapscoff, Milliken; Russell Watson, Woodbridge; Leslie Smith, Gormley; Carman Tapscoff, Milliken; Geo. Irwin, Agincourt; Alex. Logan, Stouffville; Harry Jarvis, Todmorden; Lloyd Turner, Stouffville; Murray Timbers, Locust Hill; Harris Little, Agincourt; Allan Meyer, Claremont; Bruce Yeaman, Agincourt; W. L. Kennedy, Agincourt; Ernest Evans, Maple; Fred Timbers, Stouffville; H. J. Couperthwaite, Agincourt; Joe Aran, Claremont; Richard Jarvis, Agincourt.

While York County was represented in the Inter-County Walking Plow competition by one of the strongest teams they have ever had, the competition has now become so keen that our hopefuls with only twelve points behind the winners, out of a possible of 300, were in 9th place, with 22 teams competing. Ontario County, which last year stood second, won this contest. With thirteen counties in the Inter-County Tractor class, York stood 2nd, being beaten by Haldimand. The walking plow team consisted of Herb Jarvis, Bert Irwin and Norman Tapscoff, all of Milliken, and the tractor team was Murray Timbers of Locust Hill, and Norman Tapscoff.

On days when not plowing in county competitions, the boys, with one exception, all got into the money. Three of our boys plowed in the boys' class on Wednesday and won 1st, 3rd and 4th and on Friday, 3rd 7th and 11th, while Leslie Smith, spare man for the team plowed each of the three days against as high as 52 contestants and won 13th, 5th and 3rd on the respective days.

This week the Junior Farmers of York County are plowing in the Home Plowing Competition, the judging of which commences on Monday next. There are several new boys entering this contest this year, which gives the boys a start at home, and Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn has prepared something new to guide the boys in the form of an illustrated circular showing by sketches, the measurements and shapes of furrows. A copy of this has been sent out with every prize list.

The Juniors are reminded to have their entries in this week to Mr. Cockburn's office so the lists can be prepared for the judge who commences his rounds on Monday, accompanied by Mr. Richard Hilliard, newly appointed Assistant Agricultural Representative. A banquet will be held later for the presentation of prizes.

There are hundreds of things I would like to tell you, but one little leak might cause quite a few deaths, so the best thing to do is to forget things like that in this country.

I am sorry, Mother, to say that I won't be home for Christmas this year, but maybe next Christmas, but don't worry, for we hope to have a good time and be home shortly.

The daylight is growing shorter and the nights longer. I go back on duty at twelve o'clock, so as everything is quiet except the wind, here is love and kisses to all from your son, Wilfred.

c/o Base Post Office, Canada. P.S.—Tell Barton thanks for his little letter. Wilfred.

Thursday, Oct. 3, 1940.

Dear Bill,— Just a few lines to let you know I am fine, and I hope you and the veterans, and those who have anything to do with sending parcels to boys overseas, are as I received another one, and everything was in perfect shape, and just the things a fellow needs. It sure was lovely. So I say thanks a million.

Well Bill, my friend, the weather over here is wet. Raining like hell, but that don't bother me, as I can take it, I hope. I am having a pretty good time over here Bill. I sure get a lot of laughs. There are three of us boys on a machine gun, and that is all we do. One of the boys is from Sutton, and the other from Saskatchewan. We get along fine together. We make coffee and so on, and have a swell time.

Last night the "all clear" went early, and I thought will we get a good night's sleep to-night. We just got in our tent, and over came Jerry, and let some of those whistlers go right over our head. That's when you grab Mother Earth and hang on. She really rocks sometimes.

Well Bill, I guess that is all I can think off just now. I leave it up to you to thank those who make it able for us boys over here to be able to receive such lovely parcels, as they sure are fine. So thanking you and everyone again, a million times.

Yours truly,

Gunner Gordon Rowland. P.S.—Give my regards to Mrs. White and Peter, I hope they are both fine.
